Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

From the desk of Fr. Liborio

How time flies.

Two years ago on January 31st, I was installed as your pastor by Bishop Boissonneau. On that weekend the Gospel was of Jesus returning to his home town and not be accepted – the townspeople were so angry at him that they wanted to throw Jesus off a nearby cliff. Bishop Boissonneau joked that his reason for installing me that day was that no-one here in my “home parish” of St. Mary’s would do the same to me... ha ha ha.

Well, that can be the farthest from the truth. You have all been so kind and welcoming to me that I truly feel blessed to be here and assigned your pastor.

Please continue to pray for me that I may be a faithful servant to this parish community.

Your brother in the joy of the Lord,

Fr. Liborio

P.S: This past week, I have received a few emails with advice to combat the winter blahs. Some of the emails I received cannot be shared, because the advice was so good, they would eliminate the “winter blahs” permanently. Can you imagine such a world where the “winter blahs” did not exist? What would we find to complain about in these months of cold and darkness? I am keeping these suggestions under lock and key so that it never gets out and disrupts our complaining traditions... ha ha ha. But for the other emails I received, which presented less flammable advice, I will try to rework them in next week’s Pastor’s corner.

World Day for Consecrated Life

Today we rejoice and celebrate World Day for Consecrated Life. Over the years, many men and women have chosen to live out their baptismal vocation by professing the evangelical counsels of poverty, chastity, and obedience. They do this by joining a religious congregation, a secular institute, or through private vows. We pray for these people and ask God to bless our Church with others who will dedicate their lives to God's service.
